

Yale and Brazil

Supporting Future Science Research Series

Joint Forum with Oswaldo Cruz Foundation (Fiocruz),
University of São Paulo, and Yale University

What Needs to be Done?: Biomedical and Public Health Research in Brazil and the U.S. Post-COVID

May 6, 2021 • 12 p.m. EDT / 1 p.m. BRT

To register, visit: rebrand.ly/p93r7ya

Portuguese translation will be available

PANELISTS

Nísia Trindade Lima
President, Oswaldo Cruz Foundation
(Fiocruz)

Luís Carlos de Souza Ferreira
Dean and Professor, Institute of Biomedical
Sciences, University of São Paulo

Paulo Buss
Emeritus Professor and Director, Fiocruz
Center for Global Health

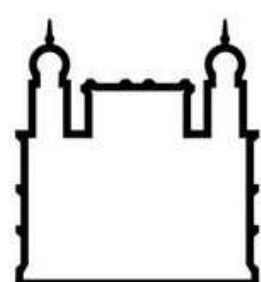

Saad Omer
Director, Yale Institute of Global Health; Associate
Dean and Professor of Medicine, Yale University

MODERATOR

Albert Ko
Professor of Epidemiology and Medicine and Department
Chair, Epidemiology of Microbial Diseases, Yale University

To learn more about Yale's programs, partnerships, and collaborations in Brazil, visit: brazil.yale.edu.

Ministério da Saúde

FIOCRUZ
Fundação Oswaldo Cruz

Yale University

